

Table of contents

1	BACKGROUND AND METHODOLOGY	10
1.1	SHORT PRESENTATION OF GROUPE URD.....	10
1.2	A BRIEF PRESENTATION OF THE LRRD PROGRAMME	11
1.2.1	Research, Evaluation and Training	11
1.2.2	The team	12
1.3	THE MULTI SECTOR REVIEW	12
1.3.1	Objectives and methodology	12
1.3.2	The itinerary	12
1.4	AFGHANISTAN 2006: HOPES AND FEARS.....	14
1.4.1	Achievements and positive processes	14
1.4.2	Negatives trends and concerns	14
2	URBAN DEVELOPMENT	16
2.1	THE MAIN EVOLUTION IN HUMANITARIAN RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAMMES	20
2.1.1	Diminishing habitat funds	22
2.1.1.1	Decrease in need for emergency shelter programmes.....	22
2.1.1.2	Emerging needs for self build in new areas.....	22
2.1.2	Progressive winding down of water and sanitation programmes in cities	22
2.1.3	New contexts, new roles for NGOs	23
2.1.3.1	Refocusing on project engineering expertise.....	23
2.1.3.2	Monitoring the implementation of national policy and capacity building	24
2.1.3.3	Initiatives in order to build capacity in municipalities.....	24
2.1.3.4	Diversifying NGO roles and programmes	24
2.1.4	New contexts, new stakeholders	24
2.2	CHANGE IN FOCUS FROM HABITAT TO URBAN ISSUES	25
2.2.1	Actors failed to fully anticipate the scope of the demographic explosion	25
2.2.2	Specific constraints, land tenure in particular	25
2.2.3	Ensuring a coherent framework for urban interventions	25
2.3	THE URBAN SECTOR: AN IMPRECISE SOCIAL CONTEXT.....	26
2.3.1	A change in socio-cultural equilibrium in Afghan cities	26
2.3.2	Incomplete demographic data	27
2.3.3	Urban destabilisation	28
2.4	THE URBAN SECTOR: DISORGANISED ADMINISTRATION.....	28
2.4.1	City boundaries in question	28
2.4.1.1	Undefined urban territories as one of the main causes of lack of public services.....	29
2.4.1.2	Shortage of documents and urban tools.....	30
2.4.1.3	Technical and legal difficulties in providing services for citizens.....	30
2.4.1.4	Maintaining the status quo or fighting corruption and nepotism?.....	31
2.4.2	Disconnection between urban territory and administrative responsibilities	31
2.4.2.1	Urban territory divided up into distinct territorial responsibilities.....	32
2.4.2.2	Urban occupation with no urban responsibilities.....	32
2.4.2.3	Emergence of new stakeholders with limited expertise urban issues.....	32
2.5	SLOW PROGRESS IN DEFINING URBAN POLICY.....	33
2.5.1	A key step is missing in the process of defining urban policy	33
2.5.2	Weaknesses constitutive at municipal level and lack of external counsellors	33
2.5.3	Absence of institutional coordination	34
2.6	CREATING SYNERGY IN URBAN DEVELOPMENT	34
2.6.1	The need to place urban issues within an improved spatial understanding	34
2.6.2	Developing a range of urban tools	34
2.6.3	Exchange of expertise, an opportunity for all stakeholders	35
2.6.4	Developing communication tools	35
3	WATER / IRRIGATION SECTOR	41
3.1	INSTITUTIONAL CONTEXT.....	43

3.1.1	Key players.....	43
3.1.2	Water and Agriculture: a difficult but essential collaboration... ..	45
3.1.3	Water Supply and Sanitation: special highlights	46
3.1.4	Institutional framework : Limited Understanding and Ownership at the sub national level.....	47
3.1.4.1	Organizational framework at the sub national levels	47
3.2	GENERAL ANALYSIS	48
3.2.1	Improve individual capacity of each actor to fully understand and play its role.....	48
3.2.2	Define leadership and improve collaboration.....	48
3.2.3	Improve monitoring and evaluation processes.....	49
3.2.4	Increase links between central / institutional and field / operational levels	49
3.3	TRENDS ANALYSIS OF THE MAIN STAKEHOLDERS.....	50
3.3.1	Government.....	50
3.3.2	External aid actors.....	51
3.3.3	Communities and private sector:	51
3.3.3.1	Communities:	52
3.3.3.2	Private sector:.....	53
4	AGRICULTURE SECTOR.....	60
4.1	PATTERNS AND CURRENT TRENDS IN AGRICULTURAL PROGRAMMES PROJECTS IMPLEMENTED BY NGOs	61
4.1.1	The MAAHF, moving towards a strategy for the agriculture sector?	61
4.1.2	Evolution of the types of programmes in the agricultural sector	62
4.1.3	The growing place of the private sector.....	63
4.2	MAIN EVOLUTION OF THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR	63
4.2.1	Main trends	63
4.2.2	The main key players.....	64
4.2.3	Non specialized NGOs and “Implementing Partners”	65
4.2.4	NGOs with a long involvement in Afghanistan	66
4.2.5	Large NGOs with own funding.....	67
4.3	THE MAIN ACHIEVEMENTS TO DATE.....	67
4.3.1	Securing the agricultural production.....	68
4.3.2	Rationalization of the functioning of the MAAHF.....	69
4.3.3	Improvement of the coordination mechanisms.....	69
4.4	CONSTRAINTS / KEY CHALLENGES AND RISKS.....	69
4.4.1	Finding the balance between decreasing the vulnerability and strengthening the private sector.....	69
4.4.2	Issues related to the reduction of poppy’s production	70
4.4.3	Some concerns about the wheat seeds market.....	70
4.4.3.1	Free or earned?.....	70
4.4.3.2	Lack of common policies	71
4.4.3.3	Lack of assessment.....	71
4.4.4	Some concerns about the national-scale programs.....	72
4.4.5	Mobilising communities: the importance of defining a common approach	72
4.4.6	Strengthening the development of farmers organisation and financial services.....	72
4.5	PROPOSITIONS	73
4.5.1	The MAAHF: clarifying roles and responsibilities	73
4.5.2	From coordination towards collaboration.....	73
4.5.2.1	Keeping the momentum	73
4.5.2.2	Changes of attitudes between the MAAHF and the NGOs.....	73
4.5.3	Addressing the most vulnerable needs: in between the State and the NGOs core mandate.....	74
4.5.4	From an emergency/ rehabilitation mode towards a long-term development approach	74
4.5.4.1	Quality as a priority	74
4.5.4.2	The need for a comprehensive understanding of farming systems	74
4.5.4.3	Building local capacities.....	75
4.5.5	Step forwards for the NGOs	75
5	NUTRITION.....	79
5.1	PATTERNS AND CURRENT TRENDS IN NUTRITION PROGRAMMES	81
5.1.1	From NGO emergency relief to long-term government policy and programmes.....	81
5.1.2	Key players.....	82
5.2	MAIN ACHIEVEMENTS TO DATE.....	82
5.2.1	Building operational facilities at national and provincial levels	82
5.2.1.1	Setting up the Public Nutrition Department (PND) at provincial level.....	82
5.2.1.2	Nutrition coordination at national and provincial levels.....	83
5.2.2	Implementing the public nutrition policy in Afghanistan’s provinces.....	84

5.2.2.1	Setting up medical facilities for treating severe malnutrition is ongoing.....	84
5.2.2.2	The success story of the iodised salt campaign.....	84
5.3	CONSTRAINTS, KEY CHALLENGES AND RISKS.....	84
5.3.1	Providing provincial departments with the necessary capacity.....	85
5.3.2	Gaining access to the communities and overcoming the cultural and financial barriers.....	85
5.3.3	Ensuring project sustainability.....	85
5.3.3.1	From donor-supply to government-supply or economic sustainability?.....	85
5.3.3.2	Difficulty to deal with short fund cycle programmes and to aim at long term impact on nutritional practices	86
5.4	PROPOSITIONS AND ISSUES FOR DISCUSSION.....	86
5.4.1	Strategies for improving nutrition practices within the community.....	86
5.4.2	Maintaining the focus on nutrition.....	87
5.4.2.1	Placing an emphasis on nutrition in health programmes.....	87
5.4.2.2	Re-establishing a role for NGOs in the conceptual framework for nutrition.....	88
5.4.3	Fostering effective collaboration with sector-wide lesson learning mechanisms.....	88
6	HEALTH SECTOR.....	95
6.1	THE INSTITUTIONAL CONTEXT.....	96
6.1.1	The main key actors.....	96
6.1.2	A targeting approach to ensure effective services for the rural populations.....	98
6.1.3	Redefining the role of the provincial Ministry of Public Health.....	98
6.1.4	The links between the health facilities and the communities.....	99
6.2	THE DILEMMA BETWEEN ACHIEVING RESULTS AND IMPROVING QUALITY OF CARE.....	100
6.2.1	Expanding the scope of BPHS.....	100
6.2.2	Ensuring quality.....	100
6.3	THE NECESSITY TO TAKE THE PRIVATE FOR PROFIT SECTOR SERIOUSLY.....	101
6.3.1	What do we know about the private for profit sector in Afghanistan?.....	101
6.3.2	The blurred line between public and private work.....	101
6.3.3	The need for regulation and enforcement.....	101
6.3.4	Are there possible ways of collaboration?.....	102
6.4	THE NEED TO ADDRESS DEMAND-RELATED ISSUES.....	102
6.5	SUMMARY OF ISSUES FOR DEBATE.....	102
6.5.1	The BPHS: a careful development.....	103
6.5.2	Limiting factors to change: the unregulated private for profit sector.....	103
6.5.3	Strengthening intersector collaboration.....	103
6.5.4	The unresolved issue of sustainability.....	104
7	EDUCATION.....	106
7.1	MAIN FEATURES FOR EDUCATION SECTOR.....	107
7.2	MAIN REFORMS SINCE 2001.....	108
7.2.1	New Constitution.....	108
7.2.2	New Curriculum and Textbooks.....	109
7.2.3	Priority Reform and Restructuring.....	109
7.3	A CENTRALIZED EDUCATION SERVICE DELIVERY.....	110
7.3.1	A Ministry of Education highly centralised.....	110
7.3.2	National policies evolutions.....	110
7.3.3	Provincial Education Department.....	110
7.4	DONORS AS KEY ACTORS OF STRATEGY IMPLEMENTATION.....	111
7.4.1	High dependence on donors' funding.....	111
7.4.2	Evolution of the main donors' strategies.....	111
7.4.3	Exogenous concepts and difficult coordination.....	112
7.5	SYNCHRONISATION OF AID AGENCIES WITH NATIONAL POLICIES.....	112
7.5.1	UN agencies supporting government policy design and implementation.....	112
7.5.2	Better synchronisation between NGO projects and national policies.....	112
7.5.3	Diversity among NGOs working in education sector.....	113
7.5.4	Coordination at provincial level.....	113
7.6	WHICH INVOLVEMENT FROM THE COMMUNITY?.....	113
7.7	OTHER ISSUES FOR DEBATE AND RECOMMENDATIONS.....	114
7.7.1	Donors' coordination and MoE ownership.....	114
7.7.2	Future capacity of the State to handle the education system?.....	114
7.7.3	What does quality mean in education?.....	115
7.7.4	What outcomes and what benefits after basic education?.....	115
7.7.5	Capacity building at provincial level.....	115

7.7.6 Improve coordination at the school level..... 115